MANY MAKE GOOD SUGGESTIONS ON 'KALAKAUA DAY'

Plans for the celebration of Kalakaua Day, November 16, are rapidly shaping themselves. Although the committee to be organized to take charge of the arrangements for the day has not yet held its first meeting, some of its members have been active. "We will have a polo game in the afternoon," promised one of them this morning. "And there will be a ball in the evening, perhaps a moonlight ball on board a steamer," promised another. There is talk, too, of a swimming meet, possibly a horse race or two in connection with the polo game, canoe races and a monster luau at which all Hawaii will be host to her tourist guests. But it is all just talk so far. The first definite arrangements will be made Wednesday morning when a committee of those interested meets in Mayor Lane's office.

NEW HOTEL FOR MAUI NOW SEEMS TO BE ASSURED

(Special Star-Bulletin Correspondence) WAILUKU, Maui, June 24.—With the granting of a bar privilege by the liquor license board on Monday to the Grand Hotel company, all doubt that the hotel is to become a reality vanishes, according to statements made by directors of the new enterprise. A meeting of the officers of the corporation has been called for the purpose of taking steps for calling for tenders for the construction of the new hotel structure, and the contract will be awarded as soon as possible. The company has secured a lease on the lot marks of the Lyons property which will also be used in connection with the hotel. So soon as the contract for the building is awarded, A. F. de Souza, who will be manager of the hotel, will leave for the coast for the purpose of purchasing the necessary equipment. He also hopes to do some advertising for Maui and incidentally make some arrangements for tourist connections with mainland bureaus and hotels.

FORMER HAWAIIAN LOSES HIS PAPERS AND HAS TROUBLES

(Special Star-Bulletin Correspondence) HILO, June 24.—George Lycurgus, who is now located in Greece and who became a full-fledged American citizen in July, 1906, has lost his naturalization papers and is in a bad way, as the Greek government or somebody else wishes to see the documents that prove that the well known former resident of Hawaii is a citizen of the United States. George has written to the circuit court in Hilo asking for a certified copy of his "papers" and it is just by a bit of luck that he can obtain the necessary documents without much delay. If he had delayed his final oath of allegiance to the United States until after September 26, 1906, he would now have to wait three or four months before he could obtain a copy of the lost papers. The law now reads that copies cannot be issued at the circuit courts without the whole transaction going through the Washington office. That would have meant three months' wait, at least, in Lycurgus' case, but as he took the final plunge in July, 1906, he saved the day. A certified copy of Lycurgus' final papers will be sent to Greece and then the Stars and Stripes can fly over the Lycurgus mansion and no one will be able to doubt the American citizenship of the former Hawaii man.

HILO GAS COMPANY EXPECTS TO BEGIN OPERATIONS NOV. 1

(Special Star-Bulletin Correspondence) HILO, June 24.—Now that congress has recommended that the franchise of the Hilo Gas company be granted, work on the project is being gone ahead with rapidly. The plans and specifications of the plant are coming down from the coast on the next steamer and then, within ten days, tenders for the supplying of the big pipes that will carry the gas will be called for. "We expect to have the gas in the consumers' houses by November 1," said E. J. Smith, the promoter of the company, yesterday, "and we are sure to be well under way then, barring accidents and the non-arrival of material owing to any stevedore strike on the mainland." The promises made to Smith as regards consumers of the gas are many, and he declares that the company will pay from the start, as so many people need gas for cooking purposes. Smith provided 60 per cent of the total cost consumed in the German empire last year. A statistical person has figured the losses to agriculture as a result of depredations of insects and rodents as $12 a year for each man, woman and child in the United States.

JAPANESE EDUCATOR TO STUDY LOCAL WORK IN JAPANESE SCHOOLS

Dr. Yaichi Hoga, professor in the Tokyo Imperial university, considered to be one of the leading educators of Japan, will visit Hawaii in August as an agent of the department of education of the Japanese government to gather information regarding the school system here. During his visit Dr. Hoga will prepare text books for the Japanese students of Hawaii. Some time ago the Japanese government was asked to send an educator here to work with the local teachers in compiling text books for Hawaii. Minister S. Takata appointed Dr. Hoga. After completing his work here, the Japanese educator will visit the mainland to study the school systems.
